

PATHWAYS TO PROFESSIONS

APPLICATION

The New Brunswick Institute for Research, Data and Training at UNB has joined forces with the Atlantic Institute for Policy Research and FutureReadyNB to host the very first Pathways to Professions. Pathways to Professions is a 13-week (May 18 - Aug. 14, 2020) paid summer program for undergraduate students at UNB interested in research, communications, and more.

Successful applicants will work on research projects for not-for-profit and municipal employers while being paid wages supported by FutureReadyNB. Pathways to Professions is a wonderful opportunity for students to boost their employment prospects through workplace experience, hands-on learning, weekly skills development workshops, mentorship from established NB researchers, and presentations that showcase their communication skills.

WHAT KIND OF WORK WILL STUDENTS DO AT PATHWAYS TO PROFESSIONS?
